American University of Mayonic Science and Technology

Student Agreement

Please Note: Reading, understanding and signing this agreement is a key part of the enrollment process.

Forward This document is designed to give all students and potential students of the American University of Mayonic Science and Technology (AUM S&T) an in depth understanding of the need for, and importance of, the University's Student Agreement.

Dr. V. Ganapati Sthapati created this university. His intention was to ensure dissemination of this knowledge so that humanity could benefit from it. His intent is for the university to safeguard this knowledge and to keep it pure for it to be taught in such a manner that it is respected, enhanced, but most critically, protected. Dr Sthapati has been very generous in sharing this knowledge but he is also acutely aware of the importance of maintaining its purity. The authentic teaching of this knowledge and the protection of this knowledge go hand in hand and this university has the unique responsibility of fulfilling this mandate.

AUM S&T has therefore been given special authorization by this only living authentic Shilpi Guru to teach the knowledge involved in Vaastu Shastras, Building Architecture of Sthapatya Veda, Pranava Veda, Mayan's Aintiram and a number of other related subjects.

Background This knowledge in its fullness had been lost to humanity until Dr. Sthapati began revealing it over the past fifteen years. Dr. Mercay and Dr. Borden have been instrumental in this process and have: a) Codified the body of knowledge for western minds and b) Produced original and vital research approved by Dr. Sthapati.

Some of the technological aspects (the nuts and bolts of building and design) of this knowledge have been available in a variety of publications. Unfortunately some of this information is drawn from poorly translated texts, a situation that Dr Sthapati is keen to rectify. In addition, the most important aspects of this science have been missing. For instance it is accurate to say, that even many of the modern Sthapatias and Shilpis are not aware of the origin of the mathematical order or the significance of it; they are not aware of the Inner Being - the Microabode (Atman) - as being the Cause of their creations. Thus, the forms (buildings) that were and are made are misunderstood. In addition as the teachers and protectors of this knowledge we also know that it takes time to comprehend. At first glance it appears to be a series of rules that will help people be happy and enhance their experience of life. It seems that all that is required is to learn the rules. This is a false conception. There is a deep and profound science behind the rules that guides their usage. Without that knowledge and, just as importantly, without the internal development needed to apply that knowledge properly, unwitting harm can be done to others.

In, addition to taking the time required to learn the deeper aspects of this work, it is important to understand that this program of study is systematic and carefully thought out by seasoned educators: it is a progressive and systematic presentation of the knowledge that employs prerequisite learning. In the early stages of the program it is easy for students to feel able to jump ahead to other more advanced aspects of this work when in fact they are not adequately prepared. Advanced students who have studied for several years will vouch for this.

Dr. Sthapati has been teaching this science and technology for over forty years and knows that there must be a systematic presentation of the Science in order for the student to absorb and apply it the technology correctly. He has placed his faith in us as educators, who have studied this knowledge for years, to provide the appropriate curriculum. In addition to holding a Doctorate in Mayonic Science and Technology, Dr. Mercay has been teaching this knowledge for six years, has been a college teacher for over ten years and a seminar teacher for almost forty years. She dedicates every day of her life to research and writing related to this knowledge. She has a Doctorate in curriculum development and human cognition, learning, and teaching. She has also been involved in various ways in the building industry all of her life and has built a number of precise Vaastu forms. Board members and other faculty members who are long time experts in the field have also taught this knowledge. Importantly, Dr. Sthapati is overseeing the research and further development of this knowledge by Dr. Mercay.

We have condensed this knowledge for the impatient western mind. Instead of a student studying for 10-15 years before being able to begin to apply the knowledge (as is done in India) we make it available in just a few years. We therefore expect even the most brilliant student to go through the steps of learning and deepening. The university also provides the unique and critically important practicum's that enable students to experience firsthand the expression of the science through the technology by building several true Vaastu structures.

In addition to Dr Sthapati's directive to protect this knowledge this agreement has been necessitated by current events. There are people in the US and around the world who are using this body of knowledge without really understanding its basis. They are teaching seminars and offering certification. Some even claim to have studied with Dr. Sthapati and we know they have not. They may have read his book and from that thought they could teach - but please be clear, they do not understand this knowledge in spite of their claims. Dr Sthapati calls them pseudo Vaastu pundits. They are spreading misinformation at the expense of innocent people eager to understand. Those who take their courses are being misled into thinking that by taking a week - long or month long training they can become Vaastu consultants. This is not only erroneous it is also dangerous. For example, a popular belief is that you can rectify an existing home by opening up the center (the Brahmasthan). This inadvisable practice can wreak havoc on a family or homeowner if you have not checked the mathematics of the building.

A similar situation exists in India. There, the misunderstanding of this knowledge is evident by the belief by many that the temples built according to Vaastu Shastras and Agamas are merely houses for sculptures thought to represent the Divine. In fact, proper temples (the buildings their selves)

Furthermore, through a lack of understanding of the deeper aspects of this knowledge terminology such as Shiva, Vishnu, Shakti and Brahmam have been misunderstood. They are mistaken for mythological Gods and Goddesses rather than spiritual/scientific principles related to the concept of spiritual energy transforming itself into spiritualized matter. Thus, in place of the deep and profound Scientific Spiritual principles, false mythology has arisen because the authentic explanations were lost. This has given rise to enormous misunderstanding of the application of this knowledge to traditional building, sculpture, poetry, music, and dance. People began to improvise in all of these forms and thus the potency of Vaastu Purusha was lost. Vaastu has become known simply as Indian Feng Shui. Furniture placement and yantras have become more important than the authentic principles behind the science of building Spiritually vibrant structures.

This knowledge was kept secret for thousands of years because of the impact it has on people's lives. You can ruin a person or help them flourish by the application of this body of knowledge. It was passed down only from father to child or uncle to child. It was a sacred family tradition held closely by the various Vishwakarma families. When you approach this undertaking, you are joining our family.

Conclusion This background has been offered to provide you with an understanding of the need for this agreement. We want you understand and appreciate its importance. We cannot teach this knowledge to anyone who will put themselves out there as a Vaastu consultant or architect without fulfilling the requirements deemed necessary by our Shilpi Guru and Board of Directors.

Please read the agreement in full before signing with the knowledge that you must sign it in order to take our classes and re-sign it when you enroll in future classes. Thank you for your interest in this amazing field of study.

Remember, we want you to join us in this amazing adventure. You were evidently called for this undertaking and have responded to the call. You will work hard in this program but the intellectual and personal growth gained from studying this knowledge will be immensely rewarding.
